RoyaltyRange

Organizations around the world use our databases for tax, transfer pricing, valuation, legal and benchmarking purposes.

We have been featured in publications by the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, World Bank Group, International Monetary Fund and United Nations.

DATABASES

Our databases cover royalty rates,
loan interest rates
and service fees.

HOURS

We spend hours
analyzing each agreement
so that the client doesn't have to.

COMPARABILITY FACTORS

Each agreement is analyzed
for up to 50
comparability factors.

COUNTRIES

Our databases are used by organizations globally.

Our data saves time

One of the main advantages of RoyaltyRange is that our data does not require much additional work from your side. Our high-quality and consistent data saves you time and increases the productivity of your research and deliverables.

What are the benefits?

- Our data is fully compliant with the OECD BEPS requirements and US regulations.
- Each agreement is manually analyzed for up to 50 comparability factors.
- The database includes detailed functional, risk, cost and asset analyses.
- Our data is fully analyzed, clean, structured and manually prepared for each agreement.
- We do not include duplicates, redacted agreements, undisclosed remuneration terms or remuneration types other than percentages.
- Parties to the agreements are checked for independence.
- All information is provided in Excel or Word, together with links to original sources and PDF documents.
- The data is continually improving through constant usage, double-checking and new information.
- An easy-to-perform analysis can be completed in a matter of hours by accepting or rejecting agreements that have already been analyzed, and double-checking them for quality.

The data we provide is used for a number of purposes, including:

- Transfer pricing analysis
- Valuation of intangibles
- Benchmarking studies
- Patent Box analysis
- Introducing royalty payments
- Setting royalty rates
- Drafting license agreements
- Determining common agreement terms
- Expert testimony and litigation
- Consulting

Reports

We systemize manually gathered and analyzed data into well-structured and convenient reports to provide users with detailed and informative insights regarding their search strategy.

Royalty rates database

We provide high-quality comparables data on third-party license agreements.

Agreements that cannot be used in real analyses are rejected during the database compilation process, so that you do not have to do this.

High quality, clean and structured data saves time and increases efficiency.

The following types of agreements are not included in the database:

- Agreements between related parties (in some situations, these may be included).
- Agreements with undisclosed remuneration mechanisms.
- Royalty-free agreements.
- Agreements where royalties are expressed in a form other than a percentage.
- Agreements with individuals, universities and other non-commercial entities (in some situations, these may be included).

Loan interest rates database

We provide high-quality comparables data on third-party loan agreements.

Our loan agreement data is used for financial transaction benchmarking.

As an alternative to bonds comparables, third-party loan agreements can be more comparable when benchmarking loan transactions.

Our additional services

For all three databases we provide the following services

One Search

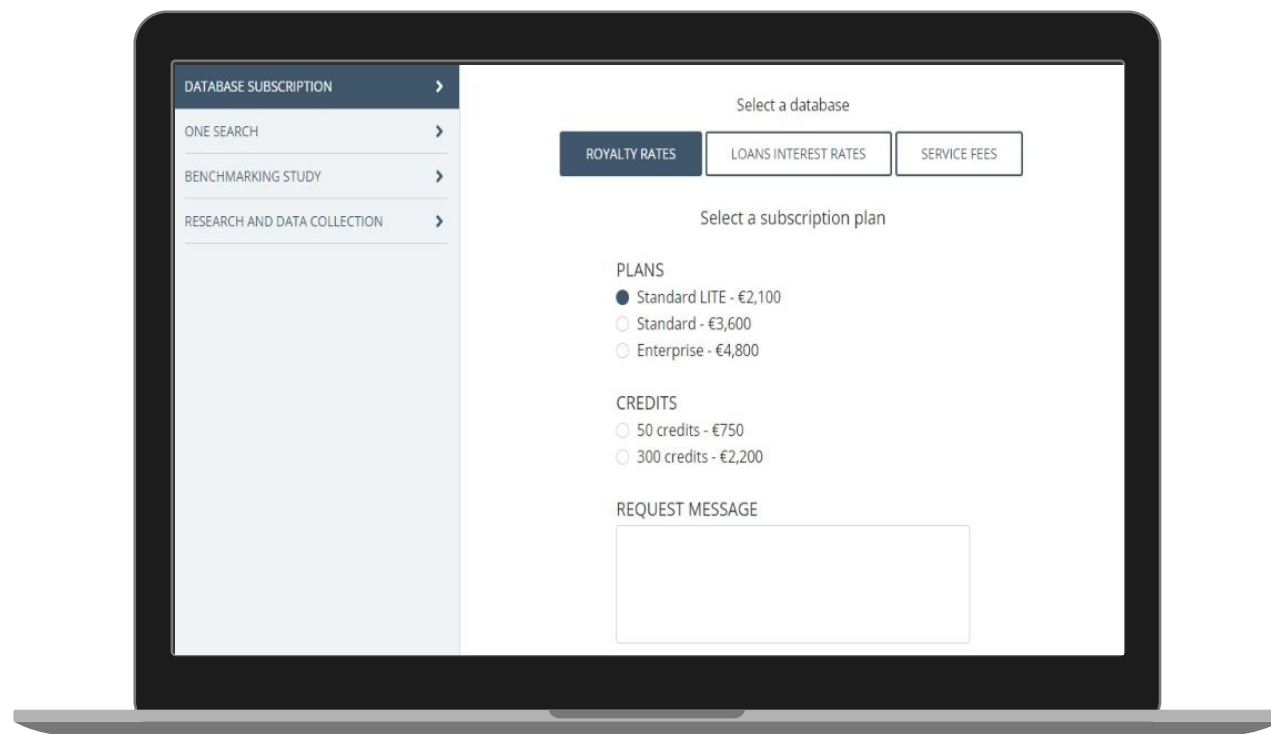

We search our databases on behalf of our clients.
Clients pay for data sets on an one-off basis.

Benchmarking Study

Our Benchmarking Study is a detailed comparison of publicly available information on royalty rates, service fees and loan interest rates that helps to determine an arm's length (market) rate range for specific products or services.

Research and Data Collection

We provide research service for specific industries and search strategies.

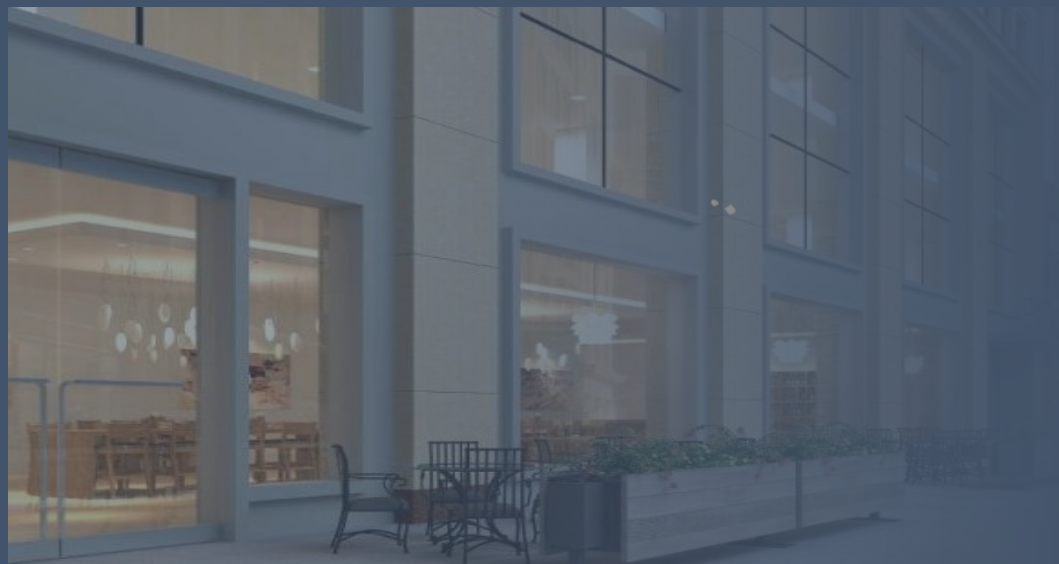

Requesting a service

Requests are typically submitted via our website. The received requests are assigned to certain people in our sales team to ensure the most attentive and personal service.

While sales are mainly conducted through online communication, we encourage and enjoy calls and meetings with our clients.

Our global reach

We have locations in the US, UK and Belgium.
